

Valentine's Day Wreath

EverythingKaysi's Valentines Day Wreath

My favorite thing to do on a cold and rainy weekend is to craft! With Valentine's Day coming up, I thought today would be the perfect day to craft a Valentine's Day Wreath. Here is a step-by-step instructions on how I made this red, white and black wreath! I hope you enjoy. ☐

These are the materials I used:

1 Styrofoam Ring

1/4 yard of Red and White Tulle Material

1 Scarf- (I found this one at Dollar General for $1. ☐

2 Red and White Roses

Ribbon

4 Heart Jewels

5 Glittery Hearts on a Rod

Step 1: I Cut the tulle material into 12 inch long strips and tie them onto the ring.

Step 2: I wrapped the scarf around the ring and pinned it down using red sewing pins.

Step 3: I cut the roses off of the stems and the hearts off of the rods, making sure to leave 2-3 inches off the bottom.

Step 4: Place the roses onto the ring, on top of the tulle material.

Step 5: Place the hearts on the rods into the ring.

Valentine Wreath

Valentine Wreath

Step 6: Cut 3 pieces of ribbon- 5 inches, 6 inches and 7 inches. Then super glue the heart jewels onto the ribbon.

Step 7: Superglue the ribbon onto the ring so it can hang from the bottom.

Step 8: You're done!! So the final step is to find the perfect place to hang the Valentine's Day Wreath!

DIY Valentines Wreath! Perfect craft for you and your kids:)

I hope you enjoyed this step by step tutorial! Have a great Valentines Day this February:) Please Pin this post on your Pinterest!

---

Gift Inside a Lantern

My husband and I wanted to get his mother a gift she could really enjoy for her birthday. What better way than a massage gift card, her favorite lotion, body wash, 3 candles and home décor? Relaxation is what we were going for, and I think we did good.:) This would make a perfect gift for Mother's Day or Valentine's or her birthday... now that I think of it, for any holiday this would work!! You could give this to a teacher for putting up with your kiddo or your favorite nurse at the end of your stay. Whatever the occasion may be, I want to show you how I put this sweet gift into a lantern I purchased from Big Lots.

Lantern Gift

I started by putting the 2 largest items in the back.

Lantern with Gift
Inside

Then the small items in the middle.

Lantern with Gift
Inside

I taped the bottom of the objects to make sure they would stay put!

Lantern with Gift
Inside

Lastly, I placed the gift card in the front! Didn't this turn out great?! I love it! Just tie a cute bow around the lantern, write a sweet card and you're done!

Lantern with Gift
Inside

Thank you for reading my blog! Happy gift wrapping!!